

Unsolicited calls from telemarketers were a constant at my home. Since the "Do Not Call" list I have been able to actually pick up the phone without the normal anxiety I had previously experienced. This list has improved my quality of life and although I came to this country as an immigrant and freedom of speech is of the utmost importance to me, there are other mediums that can be used to catch my attention. Please do not repeal New Jersey's "Do Not Call" list, it has been a god send in my family and our ability to spend quality time together without annoying interruptions.
